

Large-particle tails up close

We have been working on a module for the detection of large-particle counts on a single-particle basis.

The size range for detection is 1 μm to 50 μm .

The image here shows a large particle detected in the liquid stream.

-